With regard to reporting the movement of sheep and goats to/from shows please refer in particular to paragraphs numbered B.10, B.11 and B.13 within the 'Guidance for keepers in England Rules for identifying sheep and goats January 2008'. I suggest that many exhibitors will not be aware of the revised guidance where it is their responsibility to supply the white copy AML1 form to their own local authority for both the move to the show, and the move away from the show. The sheep and goat movement documents still require the signature of a representative of the show, but it is no longer the responsibility of the show secretary to report the movement onto the show site to the local authority. The show secretary should retain the pink copy document for moves onto the show site, and the yellow copy for the moves away from the show.
